PRESIDENT WILSON SAYS PEACE IS POSSIBLE

In an announcement that 23 members of the American Geographical Society, who have made a year's study of political and economic conditions in Europe and Asia, have concluded that peace is possible, President Wilson and his fellow delegates. With them will go several tons of documents and maps, which, together with other records of their investigations already in Paris or on the way, comprise a collection of information of data said to be without parallel in history.

These advisers to the peace commission, who have conducted an exhaustive inquiry into foreign affairs by authority of the president and under the direction of Col. E. M. House, American civilian member of the international supreme war council and a delegate to the peace conference, include experts in international relations, and are regarded as specialists in the history and politics of various nations, and officers of the military intelligence division of the army. Being the building of the American Geographical Society here, they have accumulated, through studies which began in November 1917, voluminous records, which, because of their great value, have been guarded day and night.

Withhold News.

In fact details of the investigation which is known officially as the "inquiry," have been withheld from publication until the peace conference opens on shipboard. Except for the occasional publication of the fact that peace data was being assembled by a commission directed by Col. House and that information gained from this source enabled him, as a member of the international conference, which drafted the German armistice terms, to "amuse" his associates and with his intimate knowledge of European affairs, the American people have not been informed of the activities of an official organization without precedent in the nation's history.

More than 150 persons comprised the personnel of the inquiry, which was financed out of the treasury of the war fund placed by congress at the president's disposal, according to an announcement by the geographic society. The state and war departments co-operated and both will share in future possession of the data.

Among members of the inquiry who will accompany the president are: Director, Dr. S. E. Mezes, president of the College of the City of New York; Chief territorial specialist, Dr. Isaiah Bowman, director of the American Geographical Society; Specialist on economic resources, Allyn A. Young, head of the department of economics at Cornell University; Charles A. Hanks, dean of the graduate school of Harvard university; specialist on Alsace-Lorraine and Belgium; Clive Day, head of economics department at Yale, specialist on the Balkans; W. E. Hunt, professor of history, Haverford college, specialist on Northern Italy; P. H. Lord, professor of history at Harvard, specialist on Russia and Poland; Charles Seymour, professor of history at Yale, specialist on Austria-Hungary; W. L. Westermann, professor of history at the University of Wisconsin; G. L. Beer, formerly of Columbia university, specialist on colonial history; Cartographer, Mark J. Jefferson, professor of geography, Michigan State Normal college; Roland B. Dixon, professor of ethnography at Harvard; Maj. D. W. Johnson, Columbia university; Maj. Lawrence Martin, University of Wisconsin; Capt. W. C. Farabee, the University museum, Philadelphia; author of "Contemporary Politics in the Far East"; The four last named are officers of the military intelligence service assigned to the inquiry as special experts on strategy, economics, and ethnography.

GERMAN REVOLVERS TRY IN VAIN TO SEE YANK CHIEFS

day the German revolutionary committee tried to get in touch with them, but the commander of the force in the city refused to grant an interview.

SWISS PLAN TO HAVE NEUTRALS REPRESENTED

BERNE, Dec. 4. (By the Associated Press.)—Dr. Widmer, of Wofingen, introduced a resolution in parliament yesterday inviting the Swiss government to immediately approach other neutrals for the purpose of jointly establishing the claims and rights of neutral nations at the peace conference, particularly relative to a future league of nations.

ALLIES UNANIMOUS ON DEMANDING KAISER

LONDON, Dec. 4.—It is understood that the representatives of the allies in conference have agreed to demand the removal of the Kaiser from power.

No official statement of the conference was issued, but a more official statement of the effect that Col. E. M. House, of the American peace delegation, was prevented from attending by illness.

ENTENTE TO ALLOW HUNS TO QUIT FINLAND

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 4.—The entente powers, according to a Wolff Bureau dispatch from Spaa, Belgium, have granted a safe conduct to the German troops in Finland to return home.

Under the terms of the German armistice freedom of access to and from the Baltic sea was given to the allied and neutral nations of the allied and neutral nations. The blockade conditions set up by their powers were to remain unaltered and all German merchant ships found at sea were to remain liable to capture.

MONTENEGRO DENIES DEPOSITION OF RULER

PARIS, Dec. 4.—The royal Montenegrin government has issued a statement denying the report that King Nicholas has been deposed. The statement points out that the constitution has been violated, and that the only body having authority to make any pronouncement as to the sovereignty of the state is the national parliament. This body, it is said, has not met at present, many members being confined in Austrian prisons or living abroad.

"My deposition was not a straw east to wind," which was the wind blow," said King Nicholas of Montenegro to a Matin representative.

"If a meeting was held at Podgorica (where the Montenegrin national assembly is reported to have met), I have not the slightest news of it. A meeting such as that one could have been held only under the shadow of bayonets. A legal procedure is not carried out by the armed force. That is why I consider what has passed down there as being without importance."

ALLIED INVASION OF GERMANY LAST PROOF OF DEFEAT

which was expressed in the German empire were false. Germany did not gain security at home and opportunity to immediately approach other neutrals for the purpose of jointly establishing the claims and rights of neutral nations at the peace conference, particularly relative to a future league of nations.

It is impossible to exaggerate the value of the demonstration now being made in Germany of the fallacy of German reasoning. The German occupied Lille, St. Quentin, Laon. He planned to occupy Brussels and French Lorraine. But today it is Trier and Aix-la-Chapelle which receive enemy garrisons and tomorrow it will be Cologne, Koblenz and Mainz. Meanwhile Alsace-Lorraine is lost and Prussian Poland destined to pass.

By contrast with Aix-la-Chapelle, just receiving a Belgian garrison, there is Liege, welcoming the returning king and the general who unopposedly, but gallantly defended it. The taking of Liege was a feat that filled Germany with immense and unbridled rejoicing. It was the first step in world domination as it seemed in August, 1914, in December, 1918, it is the last circumstance preceding the coming of enemy troops to the fatherland.

It is a person that was necessary and will not be lost. No victory could be a sufficient victory which ended the war on French or Belgian soil and left the mass of the German people conscious of failure in agreement, but conscious of the meaning of defeat, still insolent from the consequences of an unsuccessful raid upon neighboring states.

When American, British, French and Belgian troops are along the Rhine, when German provinces are patrolled and administered by enemy garrisons, the discomfort of German invasion and the attitude of the German people towards the German people, then there will be the solid, irrevocable proof that Germany has been defeated.

And to the accounts of correspondents, who describe the stupefied silence of the populations of German cities as the armies march in, there is one of supreme interest. They are the last signs and evidence that the great fact has been established: the German dream of world power is over; the long task of restoration and reconstruction has begun. The world is about to be reborn.

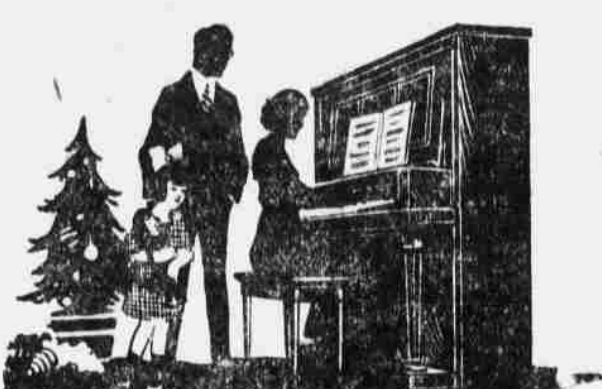

People Shown.

The invasion of Germany is the first demonstration of the collapse of the German idea. The fact has been established in a British raid and the white flag. The army has surrendered without condition, leaving its artillery and its machinery behind it, and is asking for help. And now the enemy is coming; he can not be checked or resisted. His will is law west of the Rhine. He is to rule or conquer, heavy-handed or gentle, civilized or German, but he can be what he will.

And to the accounts of correspondents, who describe the stupefied silence of the populations of German cities as the armies march in, there is one of supreme interest. They are the last signs and evidence that the great fact has been established: the German dream of world power is over; the long task of restoration and reconstruction has begun. The world is about to be reborn.

FORMER KAISER PRESENTS APPEARANCE OF DEJECTION

LONDON, Dec. 4.—William Hohenzollern wears a dejected appearance, according to the Telegraph's correspondent at Amersfoort, Holland. He says that he has fallen with "some one who has come much in contact with the exile."

This person is quoted as follows: "The former emperor wore an air of relief when he arrived at Amersfoort, but that soon vanished. Even his cherry wife could not now rouse him from moodiness. The former emperor is really something of a heroine and tries to make her husband look on the bright side of things, but in vain. The distinguished fugitive has terror in his heart."

Herr Hohenzollern keeps more and more to himself and is constantly inclined to go about. The correspondent says that his informant took him to an unfrequented place from which an unshaded window in the castle was visible. Pointing to the window, the gentleman said:

"The former emperor sits at that window writing as if against time hour after hour, sheet after sheet, often all the forenoon and all the afternoon."

SIX-HUNDRED-MILE AIR FLIGHT IS COMPLETED

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 4.—Completing a 600-mile flight from Taylor field in Park field, Millington, Tenn., three airships from the former training field returned Tuesday afternoon, after having gathered important data for the navigation branch of the aviation service, as to dead reckoning points, navigable country and landing fields.

The interfield flight was undertaken on orders from the war department, after several days ago, the route of the flight being via Memphis, Ala., Columbus and Payne field, West Point, Miss. The test altitude of the flyers was 5,000 feet, a flight level of 5,500 feet being maintained.
